The B.I.D. and T.U.T. combinations have put their stamp of approval on the C.I.O. Candidates endorsed and financed to the extent of some One Hundred and Fifty Dollars or so by Local No. 1414, C.I.O.

The Boys: Benstead, Isen and Drale, do not tell you that in their loud ads, but the Voters should know it and the Men and Women of this city should Vote for MEN THAT ARE FREE TO DO THEIR OWN THINKING and NOT TO BE BOSSSED BY ANY GROUP, LABOR OR OTHERWISE.

So vote for KARLOW, HAGGARD, and SCHWAB and get GOOD CLEAN CITY GOVERNMENT for a few more years.

(Signed) J. F.

(A C.I.O. member who does his own thinking.)

1952 Building Up $1,000,000 Over Last Year

Building in Torrance continues to race on at a furious clip, according to the totals just posted for the first quarter of 1952.

Permits totaling $4,523,791 were issued by the city during January, February and March, the records of James B. Dresser, city building inspector, show.

And April has all the earmarks of being a good month in the building circles.

Permits for 45 homes and garages in Allied Gardens, west of the Truman Browne tract on Sepulveda, were being prepared in the City Hall Friday. Total valuation of the permits will be $359,900.

March building totaled $747,841 as compared to $1,143,820 for March last year, the records show.

Totals for the first quarter, however, show nearly a $1,000,000 jump over last year's figures. First quarter totals for 1951 were only $3,663,580.

DEATH LOSS

Statisticians estimate that illness and premature death in the United States result in an economic loss of about $10 billion annually.

Bird Raisers Go to Jail

Two North Torrance fighting game bird raisers were sentenced to 40 days in jail Thursday after they were found guilty of misdemeanor charges by City Judge Otto B. Willett.

Pelagio G. Molina, 49, and Benny S. Galvan, 39, both of 17400 Prairie Ave., were arrested by Torrance police last March 25 when officers found several game birds being housed on a farm there.

The arrest was the second of the week for state game violations.

Judge Willett sentenced the pair to pay $200 each or spend the time in jail.

Torrance Hi's Student Paper 'Best of Show'

Torrance Hi's student newspaper, the Torrance News Torch (TNT) was judged "best all-around newspaper" in competition with papers from Inglewood, Redondo Beach, Leuzinger, and Mira Costa.

Judging of the papers took place at El Camino College's "Journalism Day" held last Thursday at the college.

The Torrance News Torch, which is written and edited by T.H.S. students, was also judged best in the feature story field.

Inglewood Hi's El Centinela took top honors in sports, editorials and make-up, while the Redondo High Tide received the nod for news stories and typography.

Judges for the competition included Jack Baldwin, assistant to the publisher of the Torrance Herald; Henry Burke, sports editor of the Redondo Daily Breeze; Francis Fowler, city editor and Vivian Willetts, society editor, both of the Inglewood Daily News.

Robert Kirsch, lecturer in the graduate department of journalism at UCLA gave advice to the young people planning to make journalism a career.

Services Held For B. Miller

Funeral services for Devoe B. Miller, 34, were conducted Friday afternoon at the Stone and Myers Chapel, with the Rev. J. Bonner Weaver officiating.

Mr. Miller, a World War II amputee, died from a gunshot wound inflicted Tuesday while he was working in his garage at 902 Hickory Ave. Police listed the death as accidental.

Surviving him are his widow, Helen; his father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Marcyces; a brother, brother-in-law, and sister-in-law.

Interment was held at Inglewood Park Cemetery. Mr. Miller was a member of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church.

Golf Range Under New Management

Announcement that the St. Andrew's Golf Driving Range is now under new management was made this week by Bill Brundie, who recently took over the range.

Brundie said he had been busy fixing up the nets around the range and putting everything into shape for "the best service possible."

The range will be open from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m. seven days a week, he said.

Walter Reamer, who shoots golf in the 70s, is on hand to help correct any slices, hooks and other problems golfers may have.

"We think we've got a good price, too," Brundie said. Cost of balls at the range is only 50 cents a bucket.

Zitzer Ordered To Stand Trial On Loot Charge

Sufficient evidence was presented by the district attorney to order 33-year-old Jacob Zitzer held for Superior Court trial on three counts of burglary. City Judge Otto B. Willett ruled Friday afternoon.

Zitzer, who addressed the court at his preliminary hearing, presented motions asking that two of the three counts be dismissed on grounds of insufficient evidence. Judge Willett denied the motion.

The Walteria burglary suspect is a former Sheboygan, Wis. attorney.

Police charge Zitzer with the looting of the Fish Shanty Restaurant and Whitrow's Cafe, both in Walteria, and Collier Farmer's Market in Torrance.

Officers surprised the suspect as he was loading goods from the Whitrow Cafe into his car. He was stated. Investigators found a cash register, pots, pans, an adding machine and pounds of fresh meat in his auto, they said.

Zitzer testified that he had been induced into pulling the burglary by a Redondo Beach man who accompanied him to the scene. He fled, Zitzer related, when police arrived.

Officers uncovered a cache of food supplies, toys, two cash registers, a radio, and other articles in a building at the rear of the Zitzer home, 3618 Newton St., Walteria. He told the court he was storing these for the Redondo man.

The manager of the Fish Shanty and the Farmer's Market owner subsequently have identified many of the articles as those looted from their business houses.

Zitzer is being detained in County Jail pending his arraignment in Superior Court April 21.

Meanwhile the Kaiser Steel Corp. at Fontana reached a wage agreement with the CIO giving the 3700 workers at the mill a 17 1/2-cent hourly increase and other benefits.

The pact was regarded as the first weakening of a united employers' front. Negotiations with the steelworkers were conducted over a 20-day period, presided over by Henry Kaiser, said.

Kaiser said his corporation signed the contract in the expectation that the government will grant "a necessary and table steel price adjustment."

"We believe this course is in the best interest of Kaiser Steel's employees, its 16,000 stockholders, its suppliers, steel consumers in the west, the defense program and the National economy," Kaiser's statement said.

The Kaiser increase of 17 1/2 cents an hour, with other benefits is in line with recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board. The controversial union-shop recommendation of the Board was not an issue since such a contract has been in operation at Fontana since 1946.

The Columbia plant here has no union-shop agreement, although the union has been declared the bargaining agent after elections showed the CIO United Steelworkers represented a majority of the workers in the mill.

Legion Post To Initiate 33 On May 3

Thirty-three new members of the Bert S. Crossland American Legion Post, a record number, will be initiated in the national organization of war veterans during formal public ceremonies to be held at the post hall, 1109 Border Ave., on Saturday, May 3, the public relations office announced this week.

Harry Green, first vice-commander and chairman of the membership committee, released a partial list of Torrance veterans who will join the several million Legionnaires throughout the country when they take their oath from Robert R. Faren, commander of the Torrance post.

The list of new Legion members reveals the names of John G. Henderson, Ralph Fritz, Wayne Morse, Robert McBride, Stephen Henderson, Homer Trueblood, James Leamon, Blaine Staker, Ray Clark, F. W. Schoeler, Gan Johnston, Ulysses Tidmarsh, Ralph Dody, Bruno Giacomini, George Lewis, Benedict Hardesty, Bert Friedman, Bryce Foster, Francis Hooker, Edward Culhane, Frank Young and Paul H. Jones.

The "crack" Whittier post ritual team will conduct the initiation ceremony, which will be followed by a buffet dinner and dance.

... Surplus Hit

to eliminate the possibilities of borrowing money between tax collection periods of the year should indicate to Mr. Draie that the city has no large sums of money it is accumulating as surplus.

"Mr. Draie tells the public that last year the city had a $200,000 surplus. He hasn't told the voters that in November of last year the city had to ask the County of Los Angeles for an advance of the tax money in order to meet the payroll and other operating expenses of the city. Mr. Cotton tells us that such a condition may exist in November of this year. To me this clearly indicates that the cash on hand should be sufficiently large enough to meet the operating expenses of the city at all times."

Attempts to halt the threatened walkout were continuing late yesterday.

Last-minute efforts to avert the walkout of 700,000 steelworkers throughout the nation were made by Nathan Feinsinger, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board.

He flew to New York late Friday night for huddles yesterday with the CIO United Steelworkers and representatives of the steel industry.

Meanwhile the Kaiser Steel Corp. at Fontana reached a wage agreement with the CIO giving the 3700 workers at the mill a 17 1/2-cent hourly increase and other benefits.
